Food safety in the kitchen

Good food safety involves knowing where bacteria are likely to thrive and not giving them a chance to get comfortable. Stay safe by following these simple guidelines on the how, when and where of food storage. Regular cleaning of worktops, chopping boards and any surfaces that come into contact with food is important in preventing the spread of bacteria.

When storing food

Store refrigerated and frozen foods as soon as possible after buying, taking care not to overload your fridge or freezer.

Store raw meat in sealed packaging/containers on the bottom shelf of the fridge to ensure juices do not come into contact with other foods.

- › When you have cooked food and you are not going to eat it straight away or if there are leftovers after serving, place on a clean plate, cover and refrigerate within 2 hours.
- › Eat leftovers within 3 days.

Freezing

Freezing is a great way to store food. If food is properly frozen there are no food safety concerns and the maximum length of time for storage of food in the freezer is a quality and not a food safety issue. There are however a number of steps that you can take to make sure that frozen food is stored safely:

- › Don't put food in the freezer when it's still hot. Cool it as quickly as possible (within 2 hours), cover and put in the freezer. It makes good sense to divide foods to be frozen into usable amounts and this speeds up the cooling process.
- › Remember to keep the freezer door properly closed and only open when necessary.

- › Do not freeze any foods after their "use by" date, because they might not be safe to eat.
- › Your freezer should be at -18° Celsius.

Defrosting

Most foods need to be defrosted before they can be eaten or cooked and there are a number of golden rules to make sure that the food is thawed safely:

- › Pre-packed foods that tell you on the label to cook from frozen should not be defrosted. Always follow the manufacturer's instructions.
- › Defrost food in the fridge – it is the safest way. Allow at least 24 hours for every 2–2.5 kg.
- › Make sure that food has thawed completely before cooking. You can check whether the meat feels frozen by using a fork or skewer. When defrosting a whole bird, make sure there are no ice crystals in the cavity. If poultry is still partially frozen when you start to cook, it will cook more slowly and might not reach a high enough temperature to kill harmful bacteria.
- › Cook or eat defrosted food within 24 hours.
- › Don't refreeze thawed food.
- › Don't defrost food in the microwave unless you are going to cook and eat it straight away.

General kitchen hygiene

Regularly clean worktops, chopping boards and any surfaces that come into contact with food with hot, soapy water and a good scrub. Wash the worktop with hot soapy water before you start preparing food, and after it has been in contact with raw meat, raw eggs or soil on raw vegetables.

Regularly clean the other surfaces in the kitchen that you come into contact with when you are preparing food, including: the fridge and door handles, the oven, the microwave, the kitchen worktops and the sink area. Wash your chopping board with hot soapy water after each use and be sure to scrub off any food or dirt particles. Chopping boards are guilty culprits when it comes to harbouring bacteria. Never put ready-to-eat food, such as salad, bread or fruit, on a worktop or chopping board that has been touched by raw meat, unless you have washed it thoroughly first. Ideally, it's better to have separate chopping boards for raw meat and for ready-to-eat food.

Wash dishcloths every 2 days.

If you've used a dishcloth to wipe up after raw meat, raw poultry or raw vegetables, then you should replace it immediately with a clean one. And if there's a noticeable smell from your dishcloth, then it's definitely time to change it.

Tableware and cooking utensils should be washed thoroughly in hot, soapy water or in the dishwasher. Remember in particular to wash utensils that have been used for raw meat before they are used to handle cooked or ready-to-eat foods.

Wash you hands thoroughly

- › Before and after handling raw meat or vegetables.
- › After coughing, sneezing or using a handkerchief.
- › After handling a baby's nappy.
- › After handling pets.

Food allergens

If you or a family member have a food allergy, intolerance or coeliac disease, it is important to prevent allergen-free food from getting contaminated with foods that cause sickness. A good idea is to store the allergen-free food in labelled and sealed containers (some people find colour coding helpful). When preparing food for a family member with a food allergy, intolerance or coeliac disease keep the potential for allergen cross-contamination in mind all the time, use clean utensils, chopping board, etc.

If you need to control gluten, remember how easy it is to spread flour dust around the kitchen! Always, check the recipe ingredients for the allergen you are trying to avoid, particularly food product labels. Sometimes these also carry precautionary statements like 'May contain nuts', etc. If you see this you have to assume the product contains that allergen.

7. Before serving, ensure that the burgers are cooked thoroughly. Cut into them with a clean knife and check that they are piping hot all the way through, there is no pink meat remaining and that the juices run clear.

Meat loaf

Serve hot with vegetables or cold with a salad or as a sandwich filling

Ingredients

- › 450 g of lean minced pork
- › 1 large onion, very finely chopped
- › 6 dried apricots, chopped into small pieces
- › Salt and pepper to taste
- › 2 medium-sized green apples, finely chopped
- › 110 g of fresh brown breadcrumbs
- › 2 dstsp of tomato sauce
- › 10 walnuts, quartered
- › 2 medium-sized eggs, beaten
- › 1 tsp of vegetable oil to brush the loaf tin

Method

1. Fry the minced pork and onion in a dry pan, then add in the apricots for a few minutes on a low heat, then season with salt and pepper. The sausage meat contains fat, so there is no need to add extra oil to the pan.
2. When the meat is cooked, place all the ingredients in a large mixing bowl and mix thoroughly together.
3. Brush a large loaf tin with oil and fill with the mixture.
4. Smooth the top and place in the fridge for 1 hour.
5. Preheat the oven to 180°C / 350°F / Gas Mark 4.
6. Cook in the preheated oven for around 1¼–1½ hours.

- › 5 button mushrooms
- › 450 g of minced beef
- › 1 dstsp of plain flour

Midweek Mexican beans

Serve with sweetcorn and sliced peppers on a warmed wrap, and top with grated cheese and a dollop of sour cream or yoghurt

Ingredients

- › 40 ml of vegetable oil
- › 1 dstsp of paprika
- › 2 dstsp of smoked paprika
- › 50 ml of water
- › 2 tsp of garlic powder
- › 1 tsp of salt
- › 2 tsp of sugar
- › ¼ tsp of chilli powder (add more if you prefer)
- › 200 g cooled rice – leftovers are perfect
- › 2 x 400 g tins of kidney beans, drained and rinsed – you could also use a mix of black beans and kidney beans

To serve

- › 4 soft wraps
- › 340 g tin of sweetcorn
- › sliced red peppers
- › grated Cheddar or Mozzarella cheese
- › sour cream or natural yoghurt

If you have no leftover rice, sachets of ready cooked rice or grain mix work really well.

Method

1. In a large saucepan, add the oil, paprika, garlic powder, salt, sugar, chilli powder and water.
2. Stir together until smooth.
3. Add the rice and coat well with the wet, spicy mixture, taking care not to over mix or the rice will go mushy.
4. Add the kidney beans and stir gently to coat the beans in the rice and spice mix.
5. Now turn on the heat and heat gently until the mixture is warm. Take care not to over mix, but keep the mixture moving to prevent it from sticking. Add more water if the mixture is too dry.
6. While the beans and rice are warming up, prepare the wraps by warming in the oven, microwave or pan as directed on the pack.
7. Serve the bean and rice mixture on the wrap, top with cheese, and sour cream or natural yoghurt. To add a bit of crunch, serve with some sliced red peppers and sweetcorn on the side.
